1 [Submitting Counsel on Signature Page] 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT 9 FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA 10 11 IN RE: SOCIAL MEDIA ADOLESCENT MDL No. 3047 ADDICTION/PERSONAL INJURY 12 PRODUCTS LIABILITY LITIGATION Case No. 4:22-md-03047-YGR 13 STATUS UPDATE REGARDING This Document Relates to: PLAINTIFF STATES' LEADERSHIP 14 4:23-cv-05448-YGR Judge: Hon. Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers 15 Magistrate Judge: Hon. Peter H. Kang 16 17 The Plaintiff States submit the following update regarding the States' Leadership in 18 advance of the November 16, 2023, case management conference. 19 20 I. The States are uniquely situated in this action. 21 Unlike the private plaintiffs represented by Plaintiffs' Leadership, the States are distinct 22 sovereign entities. State sovereignty is a fundamental and long-recognized core principle of state 23 and federal law. See, e.g., Franchise Tax Bd. of California v. Hyatt, 139 S.Ct. 1485, 1493-94 24 (2019). The States' Attorneys General are authorized by constitutions, statutes, and common law to act as the chief law officers of their respective states. As such, they are authorized to represent 25 26 ¹ See, e.g., Ariz. Rev. Stat. § 41-192; Cal. Const. art. V, § 13; Colo. Rev. Stat. § 24-31-101(1)(b); 27 Conn. Gen. Stat. § 3-125; 29 Del. Code Ann. § 2504; Ga. Const. Art. V, § III, Para. IV; Ga. Code Ann. § 45-15-3; Haw. Rev. Stat. § 26-7; Ill. Const. art. V, § 15; 15 ILCS 205/1 et seq.; 815 ILCS 28

the States in civil actions to enforce and vindicate public rights to protect their residents and to punish and deter misconduct within their borders and jurisdiction. The mandate of the Attorneys General includes the representation of states in enforcing the federal and state consumer protection laws raised in the States' Complaint. (Case No. 4:23-cv-05448, Doc. 1). The States' sovereign nature and the unique constitutional and statutory role of the Attorneys General does not allow or contemplate a court's appointment of private counsel to represent the States' interests.

In addition to the States being a different type of plaintiff altogether, the States' consumer protection enforcement claims are also "fundamentally different from a class action or other representative litigation." Payne v. Nat'l Collections Sys., Inc., 91 Cal. App. 4th 1037, 1045 (2001). The States' enforcement action is designed to protect the public, rather than benefit private parties. City & Cnty. of San Francisco v. PG & E Corp., 433 F.3d 1115, 1125-26 (9th Cir. 2006) (quoting People v. Pac. Land Rsch. Co., 569 P.2d 125, 129 (Cal. 1977)). This is clear in the remedies States are authorized to pursue for consumer protection claims: injunctive relief, which can deter and prevent future misconduct, and civil penalties paid to the government, which deter and punish misconduct. States may seek restitution for individuals, but the scope of relief authorized for states' claims is much broader than repayment for individual harms, which is the primary object for private plaintiffs. See Pac. Land Rsch. Co., 569 P.2d at 129. Because the nature of government consumer protection claims and the relief the States may seek here are fundamentally different from the claims alleged and relief sought by the private plaintiffs, municipalities, and school districts represented by Plaintiffs' Leadership, the States require their own distinct Leadership Structure to represent their interests here.

II. The States have closely coordinated their investigation and filing of the complaint against the Meta Defendants and will continue doing so during this litigation.

State Attorneys General routinely collaborate in multistate coalitions to enforce state and federal consumer protection laws related to widespread issues of business misconduct that impact multiple jurisdictions. Through these coordinated efforts, the Attorneys General have effectuated reform in major areas such as the automotive, tobacco, and mortgage industries. When working in multistate coalitions in the consumer protection space, Attorneys General frequently coordinate on investigative efforts, discovery, litigation, settlement negotiations, and cost allocation.

Just so here. On October 24, 2023, thirty-three State Attorneys General filed a joint complaint in this Court, in coordination with eight additional State Attorneys General² who filed complaints against Meta in their respective state courts. Additionally, the Florida Attorney General filed in a similar enforcement action in federal court in Florida, which has since been conditionally transferred to this Court. The States, using previously established procedures, communication channels, and administrative supports for sharing documents and work product, have successfully operated in close coordination with each other to investigate the Meta Defendants' conduct. This multistate work has included the establishment of committees within the multistate coalition, delegation of roles, and cooperation to achieve common goals. The States would like to operate similarly within and throughout the litigation using established structures to manage discovery efforts, litigation responsibilities, approval structures, and cost allocation, where appropriate, among the States.

The States developed their States' Leadership to operate generally in parallel with the Plaintiffs' Leadership Structure approved by this Court and with the structure described in Section 10.22 of the Manual for Complex Litigation (Fourth). In allocating roles within the Leadership Structure, the States also considered the need to create a geographically and politically diverse representation of its members. The States have conferred and are in agreement regarding the Structure and allocation of their roles herein and have established procedures for reviewing and approving action taken on their behalf by the States' Co-Lead Counsel. The States' Leadership Structure will allow for coordination with the other parties to this litigation, including the Plaintiffs' Leadership, as appropriate to maintain efficiency and a speedy and just resolution of this litigation.

III. The States have implemented a three-part leadership structure.

The States will organize themselves as follows:

A. States' Co-Lead Counsel

The States' Co-Lead Counsel will include Bianca Miyata (Senior Assistant Attorney General, Consumer Fraud, Colorado), Megan O'Neill (Deputy Attorney General, Consumer Protection, California), and Chris Lewis (Commissioner, Consumer & Senior Protection, Kentucky). To the extent that additional or substitute Co-Leads are needed later in the action, the Plaintiff States may designate such additional or substitute Co-Lead Counsel. The States' Co-Lead Counsel will be responsible for coordinating the activities of the States during the course of this litigation, with assistance, support and direction from the Steering Committee described below.

B. States' Liaison Counsel

Bianca Miyata (Colorado) and Megan O'Neill (California), with and through delegated staff from their respective offices, will also be designated as Liaison Counsel to provide an efficient point of contact with the States for the Court and other parties, including for purposes of scheduling.

C. States' Steering Committee

To maintain a nimble yet representative decision-making body, the States' Steering Committee will include the States' Co-Lead Counsel as well as five additional members from different States. To the extent that substitute or additional counsel are needed later in the action, the Co-Leads may designate such additions or substitutions.

D. States' Working Group

The remaining States will be assigned to the States' Working Group. The Working Group States will provide feedback to the States' Steering Committee regarding substantive and

2	Committee when requested.
